CALIBRE Clinic

Confidence Changes Everything

With over 20 years experience, Dr Jayson Oates FRACS is an innovator committed to best practice. His career is full of firsts: establishing the first clinic in Western Australia to combine therapists, nurses and doctors working together; building the first accredited twilight sedation hospital in the state; Medical Director of Australia's first nationally accredited course for dermal therapists and cosmetic nurses.

In response to requests from patients, Dr Oates conducted three years of trials in developing the CALIBRE penis enlargement technique; an alternative for patients wanting to increase penis size without the risks and downtime associated with surgical phalloplasty.

Across all locations - Perth, Sydney, Melbourne and Gold Coast he and his medical team strive to provide the most advanced yet minimally invasive treatment options to address individual concerns.

As the demand for CALIBRE continues to grow, another first for Dr Oates is now providing training and certification for other doctors around the world to offer this innovative penis enlargement procedure from their own clinics, including access to a medical support team and forum to ensure continued best practice and innovation.

Best advice for patients

All cosmetic procedures, including CALIBRE, are about feeling comfortable and confident with your body

“It’s all about feeling good, it’s all about confidence. When you put on clothes or when you walk down the street people won’t know what you have had done, but you feel more confident and you know that you have done it for yourself”
